Welcome and thank you for booking with Travel Destinations.

Travel Destinations is the UK’s leading tour operator for Le Mans, including the Le Mans 24 Hours & the Le Mans Classic. We are committed to provide you, our highly-valued customers, with the very best customer service and peace of mind with the government backed financial security for your booking with our ABTA, ATOL and AITO membership.

As always, we have staff onsite at the circuit and we are providing a dedicated customer assistance helpline (see the handy card in your pack) should you require us.

This booklet is our ever-popular “Essential Guide to Le Mans”. Within these pages, we have included information on everything from getting to the circuit, where to eat and drink, to where to watch all the action from. Please do take the time to read this guide and take it with you when you travel.

For those customers that are joining us at either our private campsite at Porsche Curves, our Event Tents or our Flexotel Village at Antares Sud, you will receive important information & joining instructions for your chosen area separately.

The Travel Destinations team will be at the circuit throughout race week, so should you see any of us on your travels, please do come and introduce yourself, as we will be delighted to see you. However, if we don’t see you at the circuit, we look forward to making your bookings for 2018.

Have a great time at this year’s race.

From all the team at Travel Destinations

Before you leave home and driving in France

A little time spent planning your visit to Le Mans before you leave the UK will help make your journey to and from the circuit a really enjoyable part of your Le Mans experience.

We have suggested some routes from the most common channel ports in the following pages, but a map of Normandy (Michelin 513) will also be useful.

Apart from the obvious thing of driving on the right, driving in France is little different from driving in the UK. In fact the reduced traffic on many roads can make driving in France a lot more pleasurable.

As with all substantial road journeys it is wise to check your vehicle before you leave. Oil, water, tyres and lights should all be checked before you leave home. As well as all your car documents, you will need to keep with you in the car a high visibility vest and a warning triangle should you break down.

It is also compulsory to adjust or deflect your headlights once across the channel. Spare light bulbs should also be carried. If your car does not have an EU registration plate, then a GB sticker should be displayed on the rear of your car. A first aid kit and fire extinguisher are recommended items.

It is very important that you observe the speed limits in France. The Gendarmes (police) will be out in force across Le Mans weekend and on the spot fines will be issued for all traffic offences.

Please be aware it is against the law to carry, transport or use radar detection devices in your car. Failure to comply could result in a hefty (€1,500) on the spot fine and potential confiscation of the device and/or car!
On the following pages we have provided broad outlines of the quickest and easiest routes from the most common French ports to the circuit at Le Mans, which we hope you will find helpful.

Also listed is the approximate cost in Euros of the road tolls and the journey times.

Please note we still recommend that you take a good map with you!

If you have a Satellite Navigation system, please keep in mind that French postcodes represent an area rather than a specific address.

You will either need the GPS co-ordinates or select a specific destination within your system.

We recommend that you use the GPS co-ordinates.

If you cannot input GPS co-ordinates into your Sat Nav system you will need to use a combination of your Sat Nav, a map and the information within this guide. For postcode only systems the relevant postcode for the circuit is 72100.

The digital GPS co-ordinates for the main entrance to the circuit are North 47.95627; East 0.20743

Motorsport photography advice from Jessops Academy

TRACKSIDE TIP #1: GET CLOSE TO THE ACTION

Catch fencing is a pain for both pro and amateur photographers, but a necessity in the Health & Safety world we live in - it saves lives and we’re all for that!

Now many circuits do have low fencing areas, but often the best spots have high fencing.

To avoid getting it in your shots ensure you choose a location that allows you to get as close to the fencing as possible, the closer your lens is to the fencing, the less it will show in your images.

Alternatively - make a feature of it!

Jessops Academy staff are offering a number of photography workshops during the race this year.

Call us now on 0844 873 0203 to check availability and reserve your place.

Friday at Le Mans

Open Pit Lane
Friday is a ‘rest day’ for the teams and drivers and so the organisers (ACO) open the pit lane to allow all the spectators to get as close as possible to the cars and to see the garages.

Unfortunately, all viewing is from behind a barrier, but unless you’re a driver or team mechanic you won’t get any closer to the cars at Le Mans than this!

The Pit Lane is open from 10am to 8pm on Friday.

The Drivers Parade
One of the highlights of the build up to the main event is the Drivers Parade (Parade des Pilotes). It takes place on Friday evening between 5.30pm and 7.30pm in the centre of Le Mans town.

All the drivers ‘parade’ around in historic open top cars as over 100,000 spectators and fans line the streets of Le Mans city centre and enjoy this festival atmosphere.

Additionally there are the usual race team girls and marching bands to keep you entertained, and this provides a great opportunity to get drivers autographs.

But be warned, this parade is hugely popular and very busy. Do not even consider going by car - instead take the tram and enjoy a beer or two after the parade has finished.

Classic British Welcome, Saint Saturnin
A gathering of around 1000 classic and sports cars takes place at Saint Saturnin, just north of Le Mans on Friday from 9am. The event is free to visit and there are prizes for best car in a number of categories. This year’s featured theme is Marcos, but all cars & guests are welcome.

There will be visits from drivers past and present, as well as live music, bars, shops, exhibitions and a cinema.

You never know what you need until you don’t have it! Hopefully some of the information below will be of use during your visit to Le Mans.

Local Taxis
Radio Taxi Le Mans: +33 (0) 2 43 24 92 92

Bus Service
A bus service from the circuit to the town centre runs during the race weekend:
From Saturday 08:30hrs to Sunday 18:30hrs there is a continuous bus service every 10-15 minutes.
Tickets are available on the bus.

Trams
The nearest stations that go to the centre of Le Mans are either Antares or Guetteloupe, located close to Tertre Rouge corner (see map opposite).

Radio Le Mans
The race would not be the same without live commentary and entertainment from John Hindhaugh and the Radio Le Mans team, so don’t forget to take a small radio with you and tune in at 91.2 FM.

Circuit shuttles and trains
There are a number of free buses/circuit trains that run around the circuit during the race. The bus to Mulsanne and Arnage runs at regular intervals from the main entrance close to the museum and from the Porsche Curves roundabout from early Saturday morning until the end of the race.

There are also several circuit trains to help you get around the circuit that run on Wednesday & Thursday afternoon through to midnight and Saturday and Sunday.

Note: they do not operate on Friday.

The routes are Maison Blanche to the Museum; Porsche Curves to Maison Blanche; Porsche Curves to Technoparc; Antares to the Karting tunnel; and from the Karting tunnel to the Village.
The tram is the best way to travel in and out of the circuit. It runs from 05.30hrs to 01.00hrs and takes around 20 minutes to Le Mans city centre (Republique).

The best places to catch the tram is from either Antres Sud or Guetteloup (close to Tertre Rouge). The cost is €1.50 per journey.
Whilst there are many eating and drinking options at the circuit, at some point you may want some decent food and a change of scenery! With the ultra-efficient tram service from the track to the city centre, getting to the best bars and restaurants the city has to offer has never been easier. After many visits to Le Mans both during and outside of the events we have found a few favourite ‘haunts’ of our own - some have not been quite what we expected so we are only listing the most reputable!!

Even if you have a grandstand seat for the weekend we always recommend that you move around and view the racing from different areas around the circuit. This will enable you to get some great photos and experience the racing at its best. Below is a guide to some of the best viewing points around the circuit (clockwise from the start line):

The Start/Finish Straight:
Although this area is dominated by the grandstands, if you don’t have a seat, it is still possible to view the race from the concrete steps in front of the stands. The steps act as free seating throughout the race, but expect this area to be very crowded both for the start and the chequered flag. Once the race has finished there is access on to the circuit here for the trophy presentations.

The Dunlop Bridge:
Always a favourite for photographers as the Esses here usually provides some good race action. The most popular areas are either in front of the grandstand on the outside of the track or on the opposite side at the bottom of the hill.

Tertre Rouge:
This area has been altered a lot in recent years and is now much more spectator friendly. Large grass slopes now provide good track views both at the Esses and the corner itself. This viewpoint marks the end of the areas accessible with a General Enclosure race ticket but it is well worth the walk. There is now a large screen that you can also watch the action on from this corner.

Mulsanne Straight:
Viewing along the Mulsanne Straight is now prohibited; however it is possible to get close to the action at the Auberge des Hunaudieres and Shanghai des 24 Heures restaurants or the Hotel Arbor near the 1st and 2nd chicanes. Access to these areas is only by car and expect to pay for parking and to have a restricted view usually through high fencing.

Mulsanne Corner:
At the bottom of the straight the braking zone at the Mulsanne Corner never fails to provide some great race action, particularly at night. Expect to pay for parking here now, or alternatively catch the free bus from either the main entrance or from the Porsche Curves roundabout.

Armage Corner:
If you only get to one corner of the circuit then make sure it is here, as the 90 degree right hander almost guarantees action. There is a short walk to a new viewing bank at Indianapolis. Much like the Mulsanne corner there is now a charge for parking, so it is worth using the free bus transfer from the main entrance or from the Porsche Curves roundabout.

Porsche Curves:
Always referred to as the drivers’ favourite part of the circuit due to the speed and accuracy required to negotiate the Porsche Curves. The public viewing area inside the Curves is accessed through the Beausejour campsite, it gives excellent views of the sweeping curves.

Ford Chicane:
Close up views are possible from this complex as the cars accelerate towards the Start/Finish Straight. If you don’t have a stand ticket then the best views are obtained either from in front of the stand or from the grass banking near the Maison Blanche campsite.

Le Mans 2017 Challengers

Every year we take a look at some of the teams in this year’s race and try and predict a little of what might happen at Le Mans. Each year it seems to get harder and this year is no exception. Overall that is probably a good thing.

2017 marks a new era at Le Mans in many different ways. The most notable will probably be the absence of Audi. For more than a decade the 4 rings have dominated both on track and the advertising boards around it.

Of course, Porsche are also part of the Volkswagen group, so the Germans are still well represented in LMP1. Porsche are also the defending champions and started the season strongly on their Le Mans aero package, so they arrive at La Sarthe confident and ready to go.

It is all change in the LMP2 class for 2017, where new regulations mean that all cars will be powered by Gibson engines. The evidence is that the new look LMP2 will be quicker than previous incarnations but all cars having the same power unit, may make overtaking a more complicated exercise.

Picking a likely winner here is pretty much impossible, but a quick look down the entrants list does give some likely suspects. Vaillante Rebellion is the result of the metamorphosis from Rebellion’s privateer LMP1 campaign. They have an experienced team with proven drivers so have to be taken seriously.

Likewise, Signatech Alpine Matmut & G-Drive Racing have a 2-car attack and plenty of experience behind them so are sure to have a say in the results.

Toyota will have a numeric advantage by fielding 3 of their TS050 hybrids. In the tactical battle, that is a 24 hour race, this could prove crucial. Even the hardest of Porsche fans must have felt for the Toyota team at the end of the 2016 race so Toyota will certainly have the neutral fans behind them.

We are in their camp too. Porsche may well have the fastest car at Le Mans but Toyota have already been on the top step of the podium in 2017 and we think they may just make it back there.

We will be keeping a keen eye on the pair of cars from Jackie Chan DC Racing. Don’t think that a celebrity endorsement means that this is just a vanity project. They have recruited the likes of ex-Audi driver Ollie Jarvis so they have speed and plenty of Le Mans experience, making them the ones to beat.
It is difficult to look further than Ford in the GTE-Pro class. With four entries, they have more cars than anyone else and in early season they look quicker too.

They will be hoping that the Porsche Team don’t get in amongst them as they will be difficult to dominate, and you should never bet against Ferrari although they could be relegated to a supporting role this year.

Corvette are the dark horses as they are not in the FIA WEC and arrive with plenty of practice from the USA, whilst it has been a disappointing start to the season for Aston Martin Racing who will be relying on the ACO to give them some help with balance of performance changes in advance of the race.

Some of the closest racing could come in the GTE-Am class. Here Ferrari dominate in terms of numbers with 8 entries in total. Clearwater Racing have already had success at Silverstone so will be keen to build on that. Spirit of Race are new for this year, whilst Scuderia Corsa have plenty of experience.

Dempsey-Proton Racing are another celebrity backed team that shouldn’t be underestimated. Patrick Dempsey may not be racing but his team are full of talent and the Porsche should be reliable. Gulf Racing are back again this year, and we expect another fine finish for the British team. Aston Martin Racing may fare better in GTE-Am than Pro and we would like nothing better than to see them successful in 2017.

WHERE CRAFTSMANSHIP, STYLE & PASSION MEET

As the car industry races headlong to embrace the latest technology and automation it’s comforting to know that there is one place which still puts the highest levels of service, customer care and painstaking attention to detail first.

Providing a bespoke experience that makes buying and owning your car a life-affirming activity is what drives this business; a business that passionately protects the heritage and values that have come to define Aston Martin as a luxury performance marque.

Aston Martin Works, Newport Pagnell, is the historic home of Aston Martin, where 15,000 cars were hand-built between 1955 and 2007. Now one of the most advanced Aston Martin sales and service centres in the world, it also houses the authentic Aston Martin Heritage restoration service, which expertly utilises the very same specialist skills, tools and materials that were once used to produce the cars.

“Ours is a unique and fascinating story, and our heritage makes it very personal,” explains Paul Spires, Managing Director of Aston Martin Works. “Whether we are delivering a new Vanquish to its first owner, servicing a DB9, repairing a classic DB5 or undertaking a full nuts and bolts restoration of a DB2/4, we provide the same meticulous attention to detail and dedicated customer service. That’s how we have built up such a strong global reputation.”

ULTRA HIGH DEFINITION SHAMPOO

REFLECT IN EVERY DETAIL
In a recent survey, spectators at Le Mans were asked to describe Radio Le Mans in one word. It can’t have been easy. Predictable responses included “Fun”, “Enthusiasm”, “Professional” and “Entertaining”. Perhaps less obvious answers were “statisticians”, “family” and “llamas”.

It is very easy to underestimate the value of Radio Le Mans. During race week, they are broadcasting around the clock, bringing up to date news from the start of scrutineering to beyond the chequered flag.

Broadcasting to listeners around the track on 91.2FM as well as online at www.radiolemans.com around the world, it would be difficult to fully understand what is going on without them.

The rest of the year is just as busy for the Radio Le Mans team, under the banner of Radio Show Ltd. they are broadcasting at various sports car and endurance races around the world.

As well as the rest of the FIA World Endurance Championship, they are also covering the IMSA Weathertech Sportscar Championship and Continental Tire Sportscar Challenge in the USA on IMSA Radio.

Add to that the 24 Hours of Dubai, the Bathurst 12 Hours, the Nurburging 24 Hours and the Spa 24 Hours, to name just a few, the number of broadcasting hours each year is huge.

You can start listening live now! The most popular programme on www.radiolemans.com is the weekly magazine show Midweek Motorsport, broadcast every Wednesday (8PM UK time). Available to download shortly afterwards.

Tune in online for news on everything from F1 to go-karts. They will welcome you with open arms and soon you will be calling them family & referring to Llamas too.

24 things for you to see and do at the Le Mans 24 Hours

There are many different types of motorsport fan that make the pilgrimage to the Le Mans 24 Hours every year. For those wanting to get as much as possible from their French road trip, here’s a list of 24 things to see and do for a more complete Le Mans experience;

1. Radio Le Mans – although you probably already listen to this at home it just feels different and so much better listening to RLM live at the track, especially this one. Really the only way to stay informed, with the usual mix of commentary and features – essential.

2. Fan Village – the majority of bars, food stands and merchandise outlets are found here. As you might expect the area becomes busier as the race gets nearer (especially in the evenings), but on the whole prices are reasonable and the quality of food is good.

3. Le Mans Museum – located just behind the Dunlop grandstand and next to the main (North) entrance. Well worth the very reasonable admission and features many Le Mans favourites and winners within literal touching distance – it also has a separate section devoted to Le Mans icons and innovators with memorabilia. Good merchandise shop too.

4. Autograph sessions/Appearances – the main official autograph session takes place on Tuesday before most people have arrived. However there are other events (often in the Fan Village) where you can meet past and present drivers.

5. Pit Walk – there’s an open pit-lane on Friday which can get very busy but it’s free and you get to see the cars up close, often without major components like bodywork, wings or engines. Who would want to miss the chance to walk up and down the hallowed pit-lane and see the podium up close? – essential.

6. Support Races – for 2017 the support races will include a round of the Michelin GT3 Le Mans Cup including LMP3 class cars from the European Le Mans series & Porsche Carrera Cup.

7. Driver’s Parade – on Friday evening each of the driver crews is driven around Le Mans town centre in a vintage car, giving fans a chance to see them up close. Unsurprisingly this is very popular and attracts huge crowds. Well worth the effort though as long as you travel into Le Mans via the tram from Antares to Republique (for the Place de Republique).

8. Town Centre Monument and Plaques – the Place St Nicolas is home to the ‘handprint’ plaques of the winning drivers and the monument to legends Derek Bell, Jacky Ickx and Henri Pescarolo. Plenty of history is on display just a short walk from the Republique tram stop and the area only seems to get busy during Friday afternoon and evening.

9. Trams – now the best way to get between the track and the town centre, they’re cheap and smart offering a frequent and reliable service. It’s also only five minutes from the track to a large supermarket which is right next to the tram stop. Essential for Friday’s Parade when it gets very busy, although extra trams are in service to cope with the increased demand.

10. Mulsanne/Arnage/Indianapolis – getting to these corners requires extra effort due to their distance and accessibility, but it is well worth it and highly recommended. Crowds are lighter on Wednesday and some great close-up viewing is the reward. There’s a large car park at Mulsanne Corner but why move your car when you can use a taxi?

11. Taxis – local firms provide a friendly, reliable and quick service but don’t expect your driver to speak a lot of English. With a couple of phone calls (en Francais) you could start watching afternoon practice at Mulsanne Corner, end it watching from Arnage and then travel to Porsche Curves for the next practice. Great stuff – recommended.

12. Navettes – these are little trains that shuttle back and forth on a handful of routes between Tertre Rouge, Technopark and Porsche Curves. Their frequent service makes getting around so much quicker and easier and best of all they’re free. They can get very busy but some of the routes run non-stop during the race.
13. Tertre Rouge at night – a great place to watch the action after dark. An excellent opportunity to see glowing brake discs and brake lights before the cars set off at full throttle past the trees and football stadium (MM Arena) and then head out onto the Hunaudières.

14. Ford Chicane at night – another great place to watch after dark, especially Thursday night for final qualifying. You can get an excellent view of when the cars brake and change direction as they head through the last sequence of corners before crossing the start/finish line.

15. Start of the race – if possible, try and get close to the start/finish straight just before 3pm. Fighter jets from the French air force perform a fly-past complete with tricolour coloured smoke trails, which is very impressive. They create a real sense of occasion, just before the entire field races towards the Dunlop chicane for the 1st time.

16. Watch the sun come up on Sunday morning – not just for the romantics or photographers (or both), there’s a real sense of “we’ve made it through the night” for competitors and spectators alike. There’s also a real feeling of being present at something special as the darkness turns to light again. Still more than a third of the race left at this point as well!

17. Get on to the track at the finish of the race – if you’re watching from between the Ford and Dunlop chicanes at the end of the race, the marshals continue with the tradition of allowing fans to flood onto the track. Your willingness to do this will probably depend largely on whether you’re going home straight after the race or waiting until Monday morning.

18. Ferris wheel – this is Le Mans’ equivalent of the Eiffel Tower in Paris. At night it provides a bright backdrop that helps to illuminate the track. During either day or night it provides great views over the circuit and campsites, allowing for some excellent photo opportunities.

19. Funfair and Concerts – there is now a funfair that stretches down the hill from the Dunlop Bridge as well as the one near the village. There are also concerts on three nights of Le Mans week on a stage behind the Dunlop grandstand. Both can provide an alternative to the racing for those looking to boost their flagging energy levels.

20. BBQs – the one thing that you can smell anytime, any place or anywhere around the track is a barbecue. I don’t think you can say you’ve been to Le Mans if you haven’t cooked or eaten from a barbecue at some point during your stay. Everyone else is – literally – so why not?

21. Mad Friday – some events on Friday walk a fine line between harmless fun and outright recklessness, but judging from the attitude and reaction of the police most will remain a part of Le Mans week activities. Listen out for the sound of squealing tyres and cheering crowds before either heading away from or towards them depending on your point-of-view.

22. The Danes – the Danish drink more than the fans of every other country put together. As well as their love of air-horns they’re very passionate in their support of Danish drivers. Many have their name spray-painted onto the back of their head making them easy to identify. But Le Mans wouldn’t be the same without them – legends!

23. Get to know the Travel Destinations staff – as you’ve booked with Travel Destinations you’ll already know that they are Le Mans fans just as much as you are. Friendly and helpful, they are on hand to share their in-depth local knowledge allowing you to get the most from your visit. Feel free to share your feedback so they can make future years even better.

24. Beer / collectible glasses – not many need even the weakest of excuses to partake and so when in Rome etc, etc. To enhance the experience still further (if that is indeed possible) the vendors supply your beer in a commemorative plastic glass. The glasses come in a range of 10 different designs – why not collect them all?
